Mountaire®

Care That Cultivates™

Foodservice Product Guide

2026

People Who Care. Supply That Delivers.™

At Mountaire Farms, we've been family owned and operated since 1914. Quality assurance is built into everything we do, and we're committed to customer care at every step.

We work with over 1,150 independent growers and family farms and we oversee everything from hatcheries to processing, packaging, and transportation. We maintain AA+ BRCGS-rated facilities—the highest rating available for food safety.[1]

As we've grown, we've remained faithful to our values, our commitments, and our customers. Because we care, we do the right thing day after day, season after season.

Why Mountaire®?

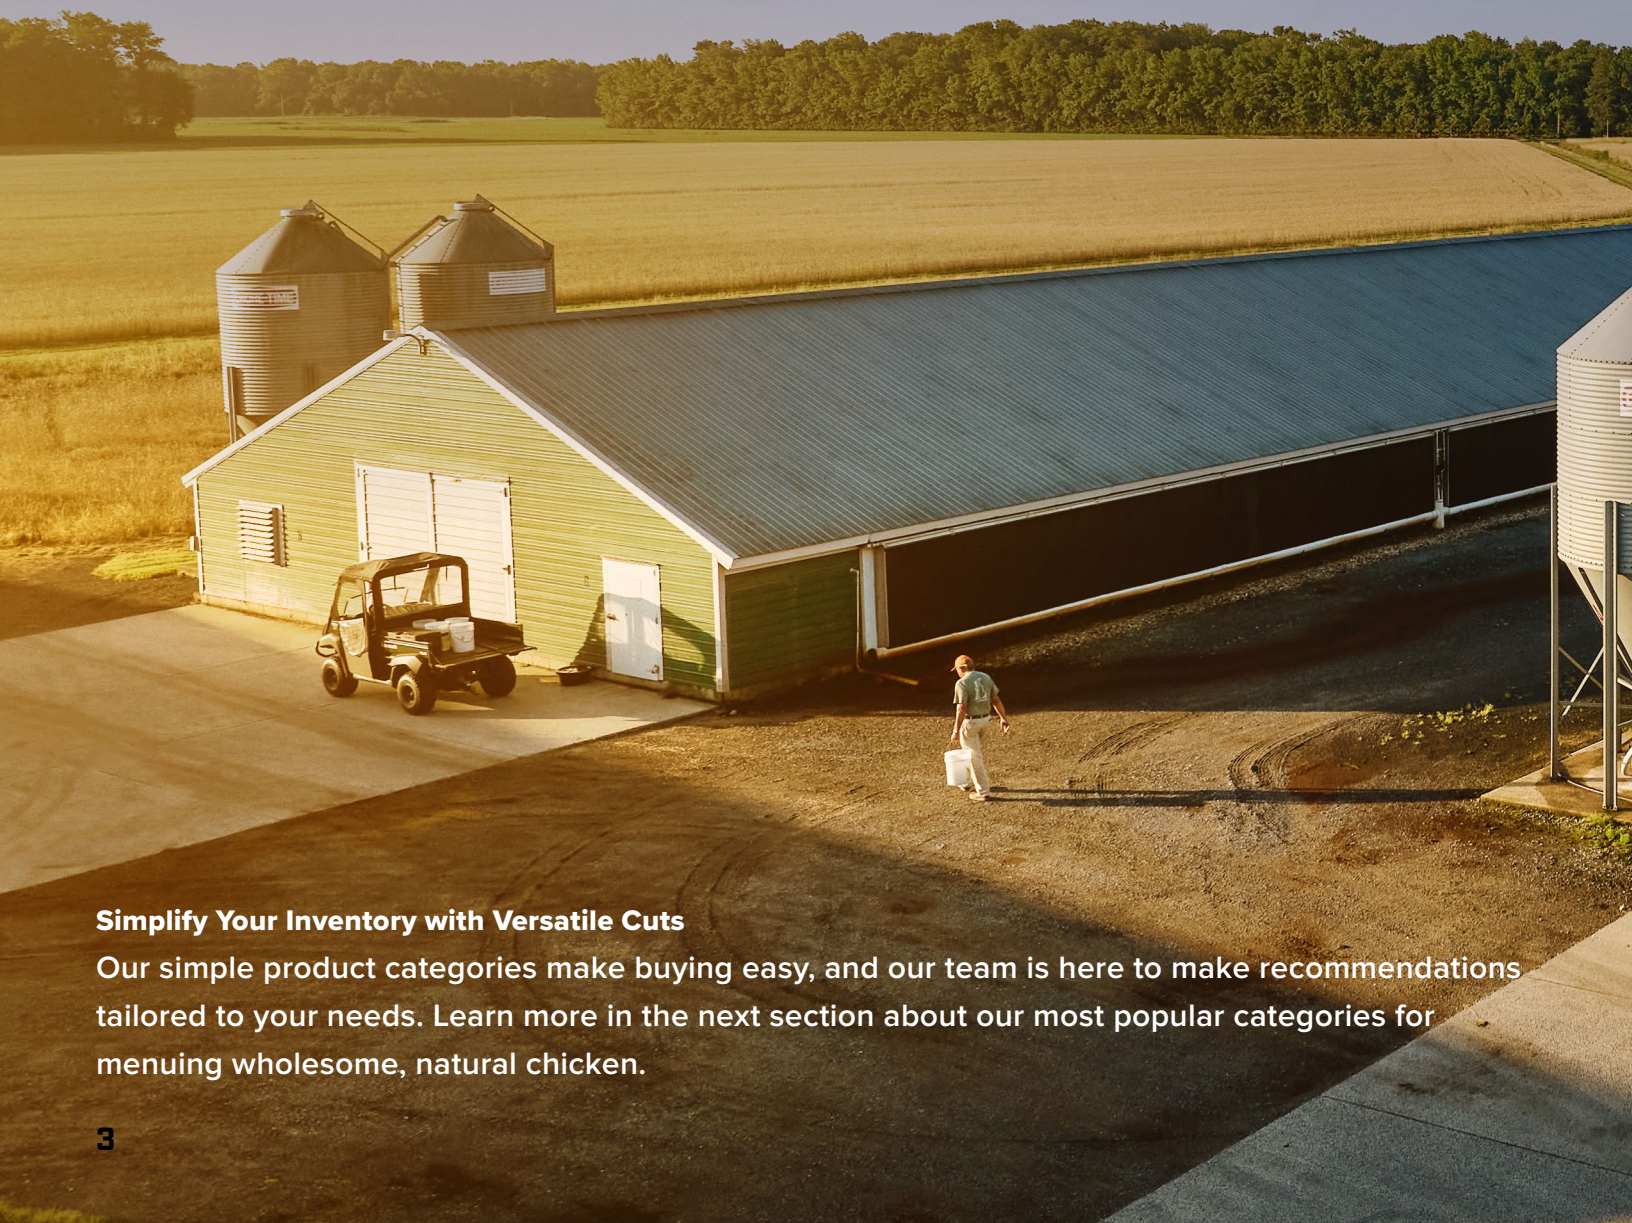

Packaging That Works As Hard As You Do

In a busy back-of-house environment, packaging matters. Mountaire's design helps eliminate common challenges like leaks, breakdowns, and product exposure.

- Durable, coated cases resist moisture in coolers and transit
- Inner liners and double-bag systems help maintain product integrity
- Secure packaging supports safer, cleaner handling

Best Practices and Safeguards Ensure Animal Welfare

Our animal welfare philosophy is grounded in the belief that healthy birds are the result of conscientious care, well-managed environments, and sound husbandry. This approach emphasizes five key areas: disease resistance, high-quality nutrition, safety and sanitation, veterinary care, and humane handling.

Simplify Your Inventory with Versatile Cuts

Our simple product categories make buying easy, and our team is here to make recommendations tailored to your needs. Learn more in the next section about our most popular categories for menuing wholesome, natural chicken.

Chicken Breasts

A center-of-plate protein staple, chicken breasts are the versatile workhorse of the foodservice kitchen, used across a variety of menu options. They appear on 51% of menus across segments, making them the most-menued category.[2]

- Versatile applications and prep flexibility
- Readily accepts flavor
- Naturally low in fat

Tenderloins

Unlike tenders that can be chopped, formed, or diced, our whole-muscle tenderloins are carefully harvested by hand. Whether you need small, medium, or jumbo tenderloins for wow-factor on the plate, you'll get quality fresh chicken for versatile applications in entrees, appetizers, shareable plates, tacos, wraps and more.

- Expected growth in all restaurant types over the next 4 years[2]
- Menu staple popular with kids and adults
- Easily split for menu versatility

Wings

Wings remain ever-popular and shareable with 88% of consumers who have tried wings saying they love or like them.[3] Crowd-pleasing Mountaire® jumbo wings allow for tastier, juicier bites, adding menu appeal to shareable appetizers, samplers, and combos.

- Popular handheld protein
- Whole wings or party wings
- Ready for signature flavor or sauce

Bone-in Back Half

Bone-in back half is growing quickly on menus and includes whole leg, leg quarters, thighs, and drumsticks. Chicken legs are growing the fastest in midscale restaurants.[4]

- Versatility and value
- Cooks well in variety of cooking methods
- Bone-in provides flavor and moisture

Boneless Back Half

Boneless leg and thigh meat from Mountaire® can be a massive labor saver back-of-house, cutting down prep time. Chicken thighs in particular have been growing across all segments and restaurant types, and are the new standard in crispy chicken sandwiches. Chicken thigh menu penetration is projected to grow by 35% in the next four years.[5]

- Ready for chef-inspired signature dishes
- Saves labor and cuts prep time
- High margin opportunity

Whole Chicken /WOGs

The WOGs category (whole chicken without giblets) offers full-service restaurants a range of possibilities—from fabrication to cooking to serving. Beyond the center-of-plate versatility, there's even more potential to repurpose in stocks, sauces and more.

- Gives chef total control over dish
- Family-style options with half or whole chicken servings
- Bones bring added culinary value in custom stock or broth

Mountaire® Blue Label™ Chicken is unprepared for everything.

Minimally processed chicken is an unprepared blank canvas for culinary creativity, and Mountaire Blue Label sets the standard. Our versatile range of fresh chicken, with quality and service you can count on every day, makes sure your kitchen is prepared for anything.

- Hardworking packaging
- Versatile cuts
- Requires no freezer space or slack time
